

One of Canada's first organic LED chandeliers now on display at Union Lighting

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Montreal, QC – September 9th, 2011 – Union Lighting, an established retailer and distributor of quality lighting products since 1914, is host to one of Canada's first organic LED chandeliers, an upscale fixture from WAC Lighting using advanced technology.

Named "SOL", the sun-shaped decorative chandelier features white Organic LED panels as the exclusive light source. With their symbiosis of energy saving, emitting technology and inspiring aesthetic possibilities, Organic LEDs promise to transform lighting into a new experience and provide a unique platform for architects, lighting planners and designers. Intrinsically thin and uniformly luminous, OLED applications will allow designers to rethink decorative, general and accent lighting.

"We're very excited to have such a revolutionary product featured in our showroom," says Laurent Généreux, lighting specialist at Union Lighting. "It allows us to show our clients a glimpse of what the future of decorative lighting will look like. This is the kind of advanced technology that will find its way into homes 10, 20 years from now."

"SOL" can be seen on display at the Union Lighting showroom in Montreal, at 8150 Decarie (corner Royalmount).
